

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

C H A P T E R XIV.

Of the Books and Papers of the Society.

I. THERE shall be had and kept a Book, called the Charter-book, wherein shall be fairly written the copy of the Charters, all his Majesty's grants on the behalf of the Society, and the obligation, to be subscribed by the Fellows of the Society in their own hand-writing.

II. There shall be had and kept a Book, called the Statute-book, wherein shall be fairly written all the Laws, Statutes, and Constitutions made, or to be made, concerning the government and regulating of the Society or Council; and also a Register of the Fellows of the Society, with the times of their Election and Admission.

III. There shall be had and kept Journal-books for the Society and Council; wherein shall be entered all the minutes, orders, and the business of the Society and Council at their respective meetings.

IV. No

IV. No Fellow shall give any copy or transcript of any matter contained in the Journals, or other Books of the Society, to any one that is not a Member thereof; nor communicate the same to any such person to be transcribed, without particular leave obtained of the Council; except the said matter were originally brought in, or communicated by himself: but any Fellow of the Society may, at proper times, and in the Society's House, have the liberty of inspecting any article in the Journal-books of the Society.

V. The original copy of every Paper read at the Society shall be considered as the property of the Society, if there be no previous engagement with its Author to the contrary: but any Author may have a copy of his own papers by leave of the Council.

VI. All the papers read at the Society in the course of each year, not withdrawn by leave of the Council, shall be delivered to the Committee of Papers at their annual meeting; and shall be preserved in Guard-books, for future inspection; and shall never be lent out of the Society's House without Order of the Council.

VII. Fellows of the Society may, between the hour of eleven in the forenoon and two in the afternoon, on the Tuesdays and Thursdays during the meetings of the Society, and on Thursdays during the recesses of the Society, inspect one or more of the printed Books in the Society's Library;

Library ; or of the Manuscript Books, in the presence of the Librarian : or any Fellow may, by leave obtained of the Society at an ordinary meeting, or of the Council, have the loan of any of the printed Books in the Library, not exceeding four volumes at a time, for six weeks, by giving his note, if printed Books, for the due return of them in the condition he received them ; or if Manuscripts, his bond in the penalty of £ 50. for each, for its safe return in as perfect state as when delivered to him.